

NC GLOBAL DISTINCTION GRANTS FOR COMMUNITY COLLEGE FACULTY TO CREATE GLOBAL MODULES FOR THEIR COURSES

GRANTS STILL AVAILABLE

As part of the NC Global Distinction Program World View is providing grants funded by UNC National Resource Centers for community college faculty to create global modules for courses they teach. A module is a self-contained unit that infuses global content, context, and connections into the course. Key elements of a module are Global Learning Outcomes, Student Learning Activities, and Resources. Modules must contain 2-3 global learning objectives and at least 5 global student learning activities. These modules will be used by colleges in the NC Global Distinction program and will be made available to all colleges in the state through the World View website.

Two types of grants will be awarded, one for college teams and one for individual instructors. A college team is comprised of three faculty or two faculty and one librarian. They will submit a proposal to create global modules for courses they teach. A team may create modules for 1-3 courses in the same or different disciplines. Each team member will receive $750 upon completion of the module.

Individual instructors may apply to create a module for a course they teach. They will receive $750 upon completion of the module. EMAIL PROPOSALS TO: nebolick@unc.edu.

Please note the following details:

- Proposals will be accepted until all funding is awarded – see below for world regions still open
- Applicants will be notified of award within two weeks of receipt of proposal
- Based on proposals World View will arrange a one-day research visit to UNC for teams and individual faculty to work with UNC University Library area studies specialists, National Resource Centers, and appropriate faculty
- Teams and individuals are encouraged to submit modules within one month after research visit
- The review committee will provide feedback two weeks after receiving modules

Grants are available for modules covering the following world regions (focus on global issues in one or two regions):

- Africa
- Asia
- Europe and the European Union
- Middle East and Muslim civilizations
- A combination of World Regions

UNC
WORLD VIEW

For the following courses you will need prior approval before submitting proposals, as these courses already have global modules from NC Global Distinction workshops or grants.

Art 111, Biology 110, Business 110, Communications 231, Computer Tech Integration 120, Economics 252, Education 234, English 111, English 112, Education 234-030, History 131, Humanities 110, Math 143, Math 152, Psychology 241, Psychology 150, Sociology 210.

Proposal Format

Please submit a 1-2 page proposal outlining your module using the proposal cover sheet \(individual\) or the proposal cover sheet \(team\). The module template is below, and here is a link to a sample module. Please also consult Tips for Starting Module for ideas. You may supply as much of the template information as you wish, but required information for the proposal includes:

- Course number and title with a 2-3 sentence description of course
- Short description of module
- Possible ideas for 5 Global learning activities

Module Template

1. Description of the course
2. Description of the Module
3. Global Learning Outcomes
4. Global Learning Activities
  - Objective
  - Procedure
  - Assessment and Follow-up Assignment
  - Resources

Sample Module