

One-Pager

A One-Pager is a creative response to your learning experience. It allows you to respond imaginatively while being brief and concise in making connections between words and images. We think about what we see and read differently when we are asked to do something with what we have seen or read. We learn best when we create our own ideas. Your personal thinking about what you have experienced should be understood by the audience that views the One-Pager.

Follow this format for your One-Pager.

- Use chart paper.
- Title your One-Pager appropriately to reflect the research examples.
- Use colored pens, pencils, crayons, or markers. The more visually appealing it is the more your peers will learn.
- Fill the entire page.
- Be purposeful about the arrangement. For example, have a reason for using a certain color or for placing an object in a certain place.
- Write two quotations from two sources.
- Use the proper grammatical format.
- Use three visual images.
- Place five essential vocabulary words/phrases around the images. These terms/words/phrases should express the main ideas, your impressions, feelings, or thoughts about what you have seen or read.
- Put a symbolic colored border around the edges of the page. Write your name on the back.
